Governor-General Speaks At Convocation and Lays Memorial Corner Stone

Cyril James Dedicates New Building

by KEITH TISSHAW

With the words "I now declare this stone well and truly laid", His Excellency Field-Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, Visitor of the University, tapped into place the cornerstone of the War Memorial Swimming Pool on Pine Avenue yesterday morning.

The laying of the corner stone by His Excellency culminated a solemn ceremony for the men and women of McGill who gave their lives during the First and Second World Wars.

Memorial Service

A memorial service, conducted by Colonel the Reverend G. G. D. Kilpatrick and Major the Reverend Clifford Knowles, was held in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium for McGill's war dead before the stone was placed. Besides Governors, members of the senate and faculty, F. Cyril James, Viscount and Lady Alexander, and other distinguished

4 Honorary Degrees Conferred

by MURIEL CLARKE

The colorful Convocation ceremonies marking the 125th anniversary of the founding of McGill, were held in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium-Armoury, on Saturday morning.

Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, addressed the convocation in his capacity of 'Visitor', a post set up by the university's Royal Charter, and later decorated several veteran students, and a member of the staff, at a social investiture.

Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill, presided, and conferred all the degrees. He also delivered the opening remarks, highlighting Founders' Day.

GRADS ATTEND

Hundreds of graduates, back at McGill for the 'Victory Reunion', witnessed the granting of degrees, as did many students who took advantage of the cancellation of Saturday's classes which permitted them to attend the impressive ceremonies.

COLORFUL PROCESSION

The rich colors of the various academic gowns and hoods made a memorable pageant as the solemn convocation procession moved into the gymnasium. Bright autumn sunlight pouring into the gymnasium from the high east windows flooded the university banners and the McGill pennants and the viceregal colors which decorated the walls and ceiling of the gymnasium, heightening the brilliance of the scene. The scarlet coats of the two R.C.M.P. officers who formed His Excellency's bodyguard made a vivid note of color as they stood at the rear of the platform throughout the ceremony.

ALEXANDER SPEAKS

In his address preceding the investiture, Viscount Alexander said that "A tremendous future" lies ahead of young Canadians, "provided everyone makes their fullest contribution." He had a special

HOLMES PLAYS AT TEA DANCE

Victorious Redmen Take Part In Fun

The Tea Dance after Saturday's game proved a fitting climax to the festivities of Freshman Week as two thousand students and friends packed the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial gym to dance to the strains of Johnny Holmes' band.

The affair was a stag and drag and boy met girl in the informal atmosphere of a victorious game. From the start it was clear that there were going to be no wall flowers and many a girl who left on a trip to repair the ravages of a literally hair-raising game didn't return to her escort for a half hour as slugs prowled the side lines. The fact that it was practically impossible to dance any other way but cheek to cheek only served to help the situation along.

Highlight of the evening came when Captain Al Mann of the McGill team introduced the team to the dancers. Unfortunately the Queen's men were unable to attend.

This dance marks the first of a series of after-game dances planned for this year.

U.N.T.D. Meeting At Dawson Tonight

A short Naval meeting will be held at Dawson College tonight at 7 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to introduce various aspects of The University Naval Training Detachment to Dawson students. A film illustrating features of Naval training will be shown and refreshments will be served during the meeting.

Lt. Cdr. Ernschaw, R.C.N., H.M.C.S. Donnacona, and Cdr. Little, R.C.N. (R), of Ottawa, as well as a number of former naval personnel, will be on hand to conduct informal discussions. Lt. Cdr. Kimble, R.C.N. (R), Commanding Officer, McGill U.N.T.D., will conduct the meeting.

McGill More Aggressive Team, Governor-General Tells Daily

Even though he was witnessing his first Canadian football game, the Governor-General, Lord Alexander of Tunis, was able to call the outcome of the McGill-Queen's football game at half time.

FAVORS MCGILL

"I favor McGill to win", His Excellency told The Daily, "From what I have seen thus far," he added, "they are by far the more enterprising team."

It was during the half-time period that your reporter, through Principal James, met the Governor-General. Upon being introduced, he smiled, shook hands, and commented on the similarity of names.

Seated on the top step of the vice-regal box, your reporter had a very informal chat with the official Visitor of McGill University. Questioned as to his impression of Canadian football, His Excellency remarked that he was very pleased with the Canadian game. He pointed out that there was a great deal of similarity between our football game and British "rugger." "I used to play rugger in England," he recalled.

MEETS DR. EDWARDS

During the interview, Dr. Phil Edwards, one of Canada's greatest track men, and 1936 Olympic star, was introduced to the Governor-General. Your reporter listened while the two men conversed for more than five minutes about track conditions, as well as former Olympic games. The Governor-General and Dr. Edwards both recalled many well-known names and dates of the world sports classic. Your reporter was rather ashamed of his complete ignorance "in the face of these two sportsmen."

It was after Dr. Edwards had left that the Governor-General made his prophecy. He discussed the playing of the two teams, emphasizing that McGill was the more aggressive. He was especially enthusiastic about the 95-yard run of Murray Hayes, pointing out that

Daily Lecture Series to Start Tuesday P.M.

The regular series of lectures on journalism offered each year by the staff of The Daily will get underway tomorrow afternoon in the Music Room of the Union at 5.15. The series will start at Dawson tomorrow night when those interested will meet the News Editor in the Daily office at 8 p.m.

As a policy measure, it has been decided to give two lectures during one evening at Dawson and only one at a time in Montreal. Lectures will be given by various members of the senior staff of The Daily and will range from Sports Coverage to Head Writing and Layouts, etc. Further news will be forthcoming in tomorrow's Daily.

Students under the age of 21 who wish to obtain a pass on the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway, should apply at the Registrar's Office, and fill out the necessary form.

(Signed)
T. H. MATTHEWS,
Registrar.

News Editor Tears Out Scalp As Past Members Berate Daily

The past week has proved to be the newspaper's when they served on it, the situation is liable to get a little out of hand to say the least.

The News Editor is up to his neck in work. Our reporters are milling all over the office, willing to learn but as yet causing said News Editor to tear out his bushy locks by the roots. It is half an hour before the deadline and there are not enough stories to fill it with. As if this is not enough in comes the Circulation Editor of 1921.

He looks contemptuously around the office and snorts disdainfully at the poor innocent News Editor. He mutters something that sounds like "You're a damn good one."

COEDS ENJOY DAWSON DAY

Good Floor Show Good Turnout Good Time

By BETTY BREWER

Most of the McGill coeds who attended Friday's events at Dawson College left Montreal with a feeling of uncertainty as to the probable success of the affair. The general feeling about last year's Dawson dance was that it had been a miserable failure, and news of that sort travels fast.

Where the men were at the beginning of the afternoon remains an unsolved mystery. Many of the girls seemed ready to turn around and take the next train back to Montreal. Some took refuge in the theatre where "Barbary Coast" was being shown.

Then miraculously about the

We hate to be a "gosh-guy" or a "Whee Willie" but the performance of Murray Hayes in Saturday's football tussle deserves all the superlatives that Noah Webster put into his "Morocco-bound" text. Yes sir, we have discovered a "gazelle boy" of our own.

Not only did McGill's edition of Glenn Davis score two touchdowns, but he also accounted for half the total of the Kerr Klan's gains. His most notable contribution was a spectacular 95-yard runback through a bewildered Queen's team for the Red team's second major score.

HAYES NONNY NONNY

Hayes' other touchdown, the game-winning one, came after a march straight down the field, featuring five consecutive first downs, and spearheaded by none other than manoeuvring Murray himself.

The Governor-General was present at his first football game, and he joined the 15,000 spectators (something close to a record, Major?) to give Hayes a tremendous ovation as he left the gridiron, a very tired player indeed. Queen's showed a powerful, hard-

Intercollegiate Football Champions Clip Varsity Blues 20-7

Western Mustangs Unveil Wide Open Playing in Opener

Purple and White Roll For 25 First Downs; Curtis Stars

London, Ont., October 5.—(C.U.P.)—Western Mustangs, defending champions, again established themselves as the team to beat in Intercollegiate conference this afternoon as they scored a 20-7 victory over Varsity blues before a packed house. Mustangs, taking full advantage of the new ten-yard interference rule, gave their backs maximum protection and that proved the difference as they rolled for 25 first downs. Western's line, centred by team captain Cook, was superb and kept Varsity's vaunted duo of Doty and Myers in check most of the afternoon. Turnbull, McLean, Wilson and Wallace all were effective. George Curtis provided the payoff touch for Western going over for two majors. The McFarlane brothers, Don and Bob, both played great games, consistently pulling off long gains.

WESTERN ROLLS EARLY
Varsity kicked off to Western and were unable to stop the Mustangs, who rolled for six first downs till Don McFarlane carried the ball over on the seventh play in less than three minutes. Ballantyne converted. Varsity tied the score mid-way in the quarter with Cranham carrying the ball after a Myers to Cranham lateral set it up. Barb converted. Curtis scored a major early in the second quarter and the Mustangs were never headed. Toronto lost their big scoring chance near the end of second quarter as Clark blocked Curtis' kick and three Varsity men failed to trap the loose ball, western recovering.

Shortly before being injured, Bob Phibbs made a sensational 25-yard kick that rolled to the dead-line, giving Western a 13-7 lead at half time.
Curtis again scored a touch-down after two minutes of play in the third quarter but the convert failed. Curry rouged Mel Lawson for a single point after a Toronto fumble in the Toronto end zone. Farley's last quarter single ended the scoring. Ian Clark, Rudy grass were stand-out on the Varsity line while Doty and Cranham were the pick of the Toronto backfielders.

Ball League Set to Begin Next Monday

SIGN UP NOW! Lists have been posted on your notice boards to register for the Intramural Softball League which is all set to go next week. Softball is the first organized inter-faculty sport to get under way and many students are expected to participate so that a well-rounded schedule can be completed.

GUNN CUP AT STAKE
All games will be played at the Gym, and will extend into semi-finals and finals. The winning team will be the Inter-Faculty Softball Champions. Last year, the Gunn Cup was won by Arts & Science 3 & 4.
There can be any number of teams from one faculty so that all students who register can be sure of being placed on a team. Any additional information may be obtained from the Toronto backfielders.

Men's and Women's Elimination Tennis Tournament to Continue

Mary Davidson, manager of the women's tennis team, predicts that this will be one of McGill's best years as far as the coeds' net team is concerned. Evidence of this prediction can be found in the fact that this year we have one of the largest turnouts for tennis elimination that our Alma Mater can remember.

The style that the girls have been showing is very satisfactory; especially flashy has been the form of Elaine Filides. Incidentally, to prove her ability Elaine, who is first seeded, trounced Francoise McHanteclocque 6-0 in both sets. Mary Davidson is second seeded, and is closely trailed by Ann Fleming who is third.

KEEN COMPETITION
So keen is the competition for a place on the intercollegiate team that Peggy Ann Macfarlane, seventh seeded player in this elimination tournament, has already been defeated by Pip McLaren.

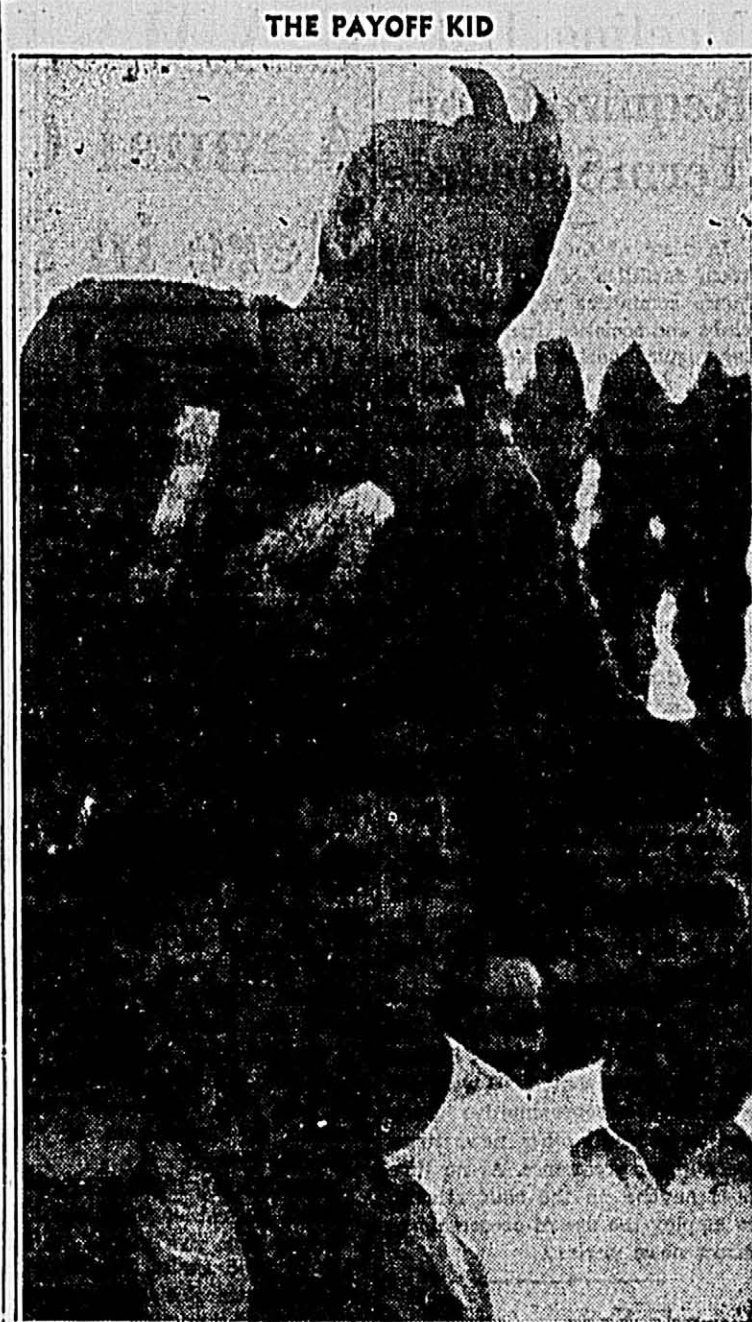

Some of the other results are as follows:
Mary Lea Fetherstonough bowed down to the powerful onslaught of Betty Evans; and Kay Little followed suit to victorious Lois O'Neill. Peggy Wright defeated Mary E. Brown and Eve Marler led the same to Dean Curry by default. Claire Johnson was victorious over Felice Arsenault as was B. J. McLeod over Nancy de Wolfe. Kathleen Kling defeated Moma Macfarlane, and Mae Grift topped Mary Stephan. Martha Fulford lost out to Louise Macfarlane by default, and Martha Morgan beat Barbara Ross. Alice Trevis proved too much for Beatrice Syme, as did Edith Gooding for Ann Lindsay. D. Harrower defeated Colleen Fitzpatrick.

TODAY'S MATCHES
Today several spirited matches will be held at the McTavish Courts. The contestants are:
Audrey Kirpatrick vs. Mary Row.
Anne Merston vs. Rosalie Ballantyne.
Joan Ferrabee vs. Mavis Cottins.
Carle Brodie vs. Margaret Duguid.
Peggy Wright vs. Kay Barry.
Ann Fleming vs. Eve Marlee.
Betty O'Toole vs. Ena Malca Rosenfeld.
Claire Johnson vs. Kathryn Wake.
Heidi Zarthy vs. B. J. McLeod.

FOOTBALL CLUB
There will be a chalk talk for the senior grid team in the field-house at 5 o'clock today.

Pictured above is MURRAY HAYES, whose sensational play in Saturday's grid opener earned him the greatest ovation ever tendered a local star in many a year.

Royals Capture First Little World Series

Montreal Royals won the Little World Series for the first time in their history last Friday night after Curt Davis had throttled the Colonels from way down south in Louisville with nine well-scattered hits. It was a great end to a brilliant season for manager Clay Hopper and the rest of the fast-running and hard-hitting Royals.
All the runs came in the second inning when Riggs got a walk off Dorisch, Howell hit him in with a double, and Campanis made it 2-0 with a single to right. Robinson led the hitting, as he has done all year, with three bingles as well as pulling off some beautiful plays at the second slot. Tears flowed from the colored boy's eyes and down his cheeks at the ovation given him by the fans at the end of the game.

Alouettes Tie And Lose in Weekend Tilts

A last ditch drive that saw Tony Golab plunge across the line with the equalizer gave Ottawa Rough Riders a 23-23 tie with Montreal Alouettes at Delorimier Stadium yesterday in a gruelling Interprovincial Rugby Football Union fixture.

THIRD PLACE ALS
The draw, coupled with Riders' 24-14 win over Alouettes in Ottawa Saturday, left the Capital squad just two points behind the leading Toronto Argonauts, with Montreal another three points down.

The teams battled neck and neck right down to the wire in sizzling summer heat and kept the crowd roaring as the lead changed back and forth.

BREAKS COUNT
In the final analysis, the breaks loomed large in the result, with the most heartbreaking for each side coming in the dying minutes when the booters just couldn't find the uprisings for the vital point. Ches McCance of Alouettes and Eric Chipper of Riders, who had each counted successfully on the first three touchdowns for each team, missed out on the last try.

Virgil Wagner, flashy left half from Illinois, sparked the Alouette drive with three touchdowns, while burly Dave Greenburg got the call on the other as he had Herb Trauwyck steamrollered their way across the line in the first quarter.

Frank Mathers, Mike Ozarko and Burnie Brennan crossed the line for Riders before Golab, Ottawa's "Golden Boy," scored the pay-off. Big John Moodie, Negro star of Alouettes from Pittsburgh, was a steady bulwark for the home squad with his ram-like attacks. He was hurt in the last quarter when he aggravated and old head injury, but he is expected to be back in the running next Saturday.

M.W.S.A.A. to Hold Talks on Journalism

On Tuesday the M.W.S.A.A. will hold their semi-annual meeting in the women's common room of R.V.C. At this meeting the fresh-ettes will be come acquainted with the managers of the various clubs and learn something of the program planned for the year. The election of section managers will take place, and awards won last year will be presented. The M.W.S.A.A. executive have already drawn up a slate but it is hoped that there will be nominations from the floor.
As the M.W.S.A.A. only meets twice a year and these meetings are very important, it is hoped that everyone will make a special effort to be present on Tuesday.

English Rugby Practice Takes Place Today

An English Rugby practice will be held on the upper playing field at 4.30 p.m. today. Future practices are scheduled for Mondays and Thursdays with additional practice to be held every second Wednesday. All Rugby aspirants are expected to turn out so that an appraisal of the talent available can be made.

INTER-CITY TEAM
Because of the lack of popular interest there will be no intercollegiate competition this year, but the Red team will sport the McGill colors in the inter-city league.

A number of games have been scheduled, and a tentative warm-up game is planned for this coming Saturday at the Westmount Grounds. The first regularly scheduled game of the season will be played in Toronto against the Varsity Blues on Oct. 26, with the Torontonians playing a return engagement against the Red and White team at the stadium on Nov. 2.

Complete equipment required for practices are old clothes and a pair of running shoes plus a plentiful supply of wind. Al Gillespie will be at the helm and George Thompson will act as manager. All interested are asked to turn out as early as possible so that the team can be selected for the forthcoming games.

RED BIRDS WINGED

Boston Win World Series Start With York's Homer in Tenth

The 1946 edition of the World Baseball Series commenced yesterday in Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, in one of the most tense struggles ever witnessed in this Diamond Classic. Braving a sprained muscle in his side, which necessitated that part of his body being strapped up, Howie Pollet, ace of the Cardinals' pitching staff, twirled his heart out for ten full innings against one of the supposedly hardest hitting teams ever assembled, before bowing to these Red Sox with a terrific smash by York Rudy that easily went for a home run, winning the tussle 3-2.

Early Lead

The American League Champs went into an early lead when Pollet hit York with a pitched ball, walked Doerr, and let Mike "Pinky" Higgins drive in "Old Kikapoos" Rudy with a ringing single to centre which chalked up Boston's first counter. Showing the type of spirit that defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League Crown earlier in the week, the Red Birds winged it back to tie it up in the sixth on Red Schoendienst's infield single and Stan Musial's line double. The 20-7 underdog St. Louis team went into what seemed to be the clinching lead in the eighth when Garigolla got a long double off of Tex Hughson, driving in Whitey Kurowski.

SWEATING IT OUT

You may not see the name of Joe Huza splattered across our local sport pages in thirty-six point bold, but for our money, little Joe, McGill's rock of Gibraltar at the inside slot, is one of the hardest hitting tacklers in the loop. Oposing teams have found that it is no cinch calling for a play through Huza's spot unless they risk utilizing the ability of one of their way men for the rest of the game. The Kingstonians found that out when they lost the services of their star snap Jim Charters at a crucial stage in the game. The Queensmen just didn't have it after the hefty centre (No. 24) was sidelined.

The way some of the boys went into the Saturday fray it was a wonder that the Redmen didn't suffer any injuries of a serious nature. Dick Pare, whom many feared would not weather the heavy going because of a shoulder separation, did very well subbing for Johnny Hall. The latter suffered a mouth injury that bothered him throughout the tilt. Bob Bartlett's kicking wasn't up to par but I we'd like to see you boot a ball with a couple of yards of tape around your ankle (and that's no alibi, Ike). Alan Mann's foot held out till the last quarter, when a kick in the shins brought on the recurrent injury (and Kerr without a sub snap).

CAUSTIC COMMENTS

Quote our elated coach Kerri "From here on in, they all count. This isn't the best the team can do, but it was a case of our speed over their brawn." Ed. note: The Queen's twelve outweighed the Redmen on an average of 15 lbs per man... When queried about the Toronto game, Kerr had no comments... Monsson, Queens mentor, had the following to say: "Your team deserves congratulations on their victory, but remember, the rubber match is in Kingston"... Al Lenard, the Tricolor triple threat man, went a little further in stating that the Redmen are a real threat for the Intercollegiate garlands this year... Hero Hayes, hardly weathering the storm of a shower: "I wasn't afraid of 'em. After all, I had Dougie Heron beside me. My big brudder, you know."

SONG SPINNERS

Queen's players after the game: "Give us five minutes more."
After a Lenard plunge: "Pardon me, boy, is that the Chatanooga Choo Choo?"
Getting up after a line pileup: "Stars in my eyes".

Reception and Dance Are Features of Dawson's Day

Principal, Board, Grads and Co-eds Present on Friday

Dawson College was the University's centre of attraction on Friday as members of the Board of Governors, faculty members, graduates attending the 125th Anniversary Victory Reunion, and hundreds of co-eds from the McGill campus arrived to take part in the "D Day" program, a joint effort of the University authorities and the Freshman Reception Committee. The official Reception and the dance which took place later in the evening were the main events of the day.

Principal F. Cyril James, and members of the Governing Board officiated at the reception which marked the opening of the program. The huge gymnasium was filled with the visiting co-eds and graduates as well as Dawson students whose lectures had been cancelled at 3 p.m. to allow them to attend. Dr. James, Mr. William Birks, Mr. J. D. Johnson, Mr. James Wilson, Mr. Alan McGee and Mr. Colpitts of the Board of Governors received the new students and extended them a welcome to the University. Sir Hector Hetherington, distinguished McGill graduate and co-speaker with the Governor General at Saturday's Convocation was present.

Following the reception, refreshments were served and then the visitors, escorted by Dawson students, were conducted in groups on a tour of the campus. During the supper period movies were shown in the theatre and an athletic display was given in the gymnasium.

By 7.30, huge crowds had converged on the gymnasium to take part in the informal get-together dance arranged by the Freshman Reception Committee. Dawson students, appreciative of the opportunity to become acquainted with the co-eds from the McGill campus, attended in large numbers and the large gymnasium was crowded. The Westerners, who provided the music, proved very popular with the dancers. During the 8.30 intermission, a light snack was served in the Dining Hall and a short program of entertainment was provided for those who remained in the gymnasium. Dancing concluded at 11.30 to enable the visiting co-eds to return by special train to Montreal.

driving line, and a couple of classy performers in the persons of Al Lenard and Dave Rozumniak. From where we sat it looked like it was McGill's speed over Queen's blocking.

Redmen Open Scoring
The Redmen drew first blood when burly Bob Bartlett hoisted a 60-yard kick behind the Gaels' goal line which Rozumniak fumbled. Hart Finlay proved to be "Johnnie-on-the-spot" as he pounced upon the loose ball for a major score. Heron converted from placement to put the Redmen ahead 6-0.

On the very next play, Hayes gathered in Lenard's kick-off to romp 95 yards over the Queen's line. It was one of the most spectacular runs ever seen on a local gridiron. Johnny Hall converted via a drop-kick.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter Bob Stevens, hefty Tricolour captain recovered a Farlinger fumble on the Red 14-yard stripe, and Rozumniak carried the ball into pay-dirt on a line buck. Lenard converted.

McGILL DAWSON DREAM GAME

Athletics Director Suffering Collapse Goes Berserk

St. John's, Que.—Last Thursday dawned clear and bright in the general area of Dawson campus and after two days of rain with a day of snowfall jammed in between, it was a most acceptable gift of the weatherman to some 1,500 browned-off freshmen.

Alas that this portent of fair weather should be all well. Yes, for although a blazing sun beamed from an ocean of blue throughout the day, the sky over Dawson was blanketed by figurative dark clouds that plunged the entire student body back into that Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday mood of dark dank despair.

It all started (although no one noticed at the time) on the sports page of a morning newspaper. From a publicity release this paper obtained the information that "tonight's football rally includes... an exhibition game between Dawson College and McGill." The worst was yet to come.

That evening a goodly number of Dawsonites had their ears tuned in to a Montreal radio station that was featuring an "actuality" of football rally proceedings. Of one stage of the broadcast—during the McGill-Dawson exhibition game—the announcer gave forth in excited voice with something akin to this: "There goes the kick-off, ladies and gentlemen... Dawson has the ball... Dawson fumbles the ball... McGill has the ball... McGill scores! McGill scores a touchdown over Dawson, ladies and gentlemen, after only 54 seconds of play. In a sensational..."

The game ended McGill 10, "Dawson" 5; a number of the boys were feeling a little downcast. "Poor old Em," they chorused with a shaking of heads, knowing beforehand how Dawson athletics director Em Orlick would be feeling at this moment. "Let's whip over to the gym, and cheer him up."

Prof. E. Orlick, M.A., M.P.E., was looking anything but dejected when the self-appointed delegation arrived. "How are you, boys?" he smiled. "Can I interest you in parallel bars, rope climbing, bag punching, or anything?"

Despite the fact that any one of the delegation could have profited immensely by indulging in any of the above-mentioned activities, the lads shook their heads as one.

"Thanks just the same, Em," one character mumbled in a low tone. "We just came along to extend our sympathy."

"Yeah," echoed the others. "Our sympathy, Em. Hard lines and all that stuff, old boy."

Em looked a little doubtful. After all, these fellows had been at Dawson less than a week—they couldn't be cracking up already. It had taken last year's crowd two weeks to go wacky, he argued with himself. Perhaps these lads had been affected by the combination of over-long queues and the low price of ale in that nearby hamlet. "I'd better get to the bottom of this," he mused. Then aloud: "Sympathy, gentlemen? Sympathy for what?"

It is said that never in the field of university gymnasiums has so much valuable property been destroyed by an athletics director to no known purpose. On hearing the account of the McGill-Dawson grid classic, poor Em went berserk. He used curling stones Rozumniak dropped on Hayes' miscue behind the "Red Iron Curtain." Lenard repeated his previous convert to tie the count. Play see-sawed back and forth in the second half until early in the fourth quarter when the Redmen started a determined drive from their own 53, and by a series of extension runs set the stage for Hayes to go over. Heron converted again to put the Kermans into an 18-12 lead which they held on tenuously till the final whistle.

Social Group Asks for Applications

Article VII, Sect. 5, of the Students' Society Constitution states: Students' Social Functions: The members of the Council shall constitute a committee on Students' Social Functions. All undergraduate bodies desiring to hold any entertainment or any other social functions must make application to the Committee, which may reject the same or forward it and its recommendations to the Principal.

In order to carry out the above function, the Council has appointed a sub-committee of the Council composed of the Presidents of the McGill Women's Union, the McGill Union, and the Students' Athletic Council, to be known as the Dates Committee.

All applications to hold social functions should be made on the forms provided in the Secretary's office in the McGill Union. Only one application form is necessary per social function. All dates granted by the Dates Committee shall be published in the McGill Daily after the Dates Committee meetings. In the event of an application being rejected, the club or society concerned shall be informed by the Committee immediately.

The members of the Dates Committee for the present term are Miss Hedwig Brown, President of the Women's Union, David Townsend, president of the McGill Union, and Peter Turcot, Chairman of the Students' Athletic Council.

In view of the authority vested in the Students' Council by the above article in the Constitution of the Society, the council have adopted certain rules and regulations, enumerated below:

1. That no club or society, other than the Freshman Reception Committee be allowed to sponsor any social functions which purports to be part of the Freshman Reception Activities.

2. That for the first two weeks of the academic year, no clubs or societies through their activities or publicity shall attempt to influence the freshman or freshmen, either directly or indirectly, on behalf of their clubs, and that all publicity stories concerning club activities in the third week must be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily in person.

3. All requests for permission to hold social function in the second week of the academic year shall be submitted to the Students' Executive Council for approval.

4. That no social function be allowed to interfere with an event sponsored directly by the Students' Executive Council, the Students' Athletic Council, the Undergraduate Societies, the Red and White Society, or any other group so specified by the Dates Committee of the Students' Council.

5. That the number of social activities for the past year on the campus has been excessive, and therefore, other clubs and societies shall be encouraged to hold social functions for their own club members only, but NOT for the campus at large.

for bowling balls and knocked out the end of the Snack Bar; the bowling balls he used for a violent game of basketball in which he played the role of the two teams; a half-dozen punching bags became just so many dangling strips of frayed leather, and he threw so many 500-lb. dumbbells at the ceiling that you could hear the rafters ring.

It was two days before visitors were allowed at Em's bedside in the little campus hospital, and even then he was a little hazy about the faithful night.

"All I can remember, fellas," he said in a somewhat choked voice, "is that on Thursday night, just before the boys came over to extend their sympathy, I had been watching our football squads in a practice session. They were pretty hot stuff, and I was feeling like a million as I thought of the number of scalps we'd collect during the season—just like last year, you know?"

Em's voice became a little more agitated. "Well, I tell the boys to knock off to the gym and have a shower and rub down. Every potential football player at Dawson is in the shower room when I step back into the gym." The hospital ward positively reverberated as Em screamed: "And then some guys step up to tell me that press and radio are informing everyone those boys are 30 miles away, playing a game, fumbling, losing... I... I..."

It is said that never in the field of little campus hospitals have so many strait-jackets been installed by such an arm yof doctors, nurses and orderlies on so few athletic directors.

The Movies—from p. 2

dialogue make the film alive. The picture introduces a new young leading lady in the person of Nancy Guild playing the level-headed, staunch-hearted love interest. Miss Guild seems to be patterned after the Look, Lauren Bacall, and this handicaps her no end.

Lloyd Nolan as Lieutenant Donald Kendall stole the show with his smooth performance, appearing but too infrequently on the screen. Richard Conte was wisecrass, while Josephine Hutchinson makes the scene of the ex-Marine following up on a clue very appealing and real.

AT THE CAPITOL

Now in its second week, "The Stranger" unfolds a suspense-story to gullible audiences. From the point of view of content, the story is typically Hollywood; as to form, there is an obvious and almost painful attempt to create suspense.

Grasping furtively at the dying box-office attraction of the "Fast-cast-Nazi" type of film, Hollywood strain its imagination to show what happen when an escaped Nazi leader (Orson Welles), who has a passion for repairing clocks, marries the respectable daughter (Loretta Young) of a respectable judge in a respectable town somewhere in Connecticut. The law, however, in the shape of Mr. Wilson (Edward G. Robinson), is always on the acting is good, although most of the effects are created by some expert photography and gripping close-ups of Mr. Welles and Mr. Robinson. Mr. Welles, who directed the film, tries very hard to create a movie of suspense a la Hitchcock, the trail of the brutal Nazi, and of course, wins out in the gruesome end.

gathering of close to 12,000 sat in on the proceedings and watched the Rough Riders take to the air in the second quarter with alarming alacrity. The aerial attack counted for one, touchdown and also served as a setup for another. At the end of the half, Ottawa led by the score of 23-9, and although the Als countered with a paydirt plunge by Moody in the final quarter, their lead was never threatened.

not appear, it seems that the Editor has decided to add to his normal duties that of a CENSOR. Can it be that the editor disagrees with the resolutions? I maintain that Student opinion on the contents of the resolutions is a matter for students to decide for themselves. Therefore, I am forced to use this method of presenting the resolutions for the information of the whole student body. The resolutions follow:

1. We urge the Federal Government to carry out the proposals of Ottawa Veterans Housing League for 500 emergency homes for Ottawa veterans and call upon the government to allot the empty barracks and government buildings to veterans in need and urge the government to permit the 60 families already placed to remain on the terms proposed by Veterans' Housing League.

2. We condemn the attitude of the government authorities towards the vets housing problems as expressed in the arrest of Hanratty and Blakney and maintain that such arrests in no way help solve the housing problem. The only crime Hanratty and Blakney are guilty of in the eyes of veterans is having housed 60 veterans families, as opposed to the promises given by the government and cynically broken since the end of the war. We urge that the charge against these two be dropped.

3. In order to avoid a repetition of the events such as occurred in Ottawa, we urge the government to immediately take over all empty buildings in proportion to need throughout the country suitable for emergency accommodation of veterans and their families, and that these families be housed.

4. We urge the university authorities in co-operation with government authorities to assist McGill veterans in setting up co-operative residences by using their influence in obtaining necessary buildings.

5. As a long term measure, we call upon the government to initiate a national home building programme to provide decent low rental homes at one fifth of income as a rental; this to be made possible, if necessary, by government subsidy.

Meeting Dates Required for Term Schedule

In view of the limited meeting room facilities of the Union, the house committee requests that all clubs and societies desirous of having regular weekly meetings in the Union, submit to the President in the next four days, the time, day and number of students expected at these meetings.

With this information, the committee intends to draw up a schedule that will insure all those clubs a regular room for their specified day, and thus avoiding unnecessary postponement of any meeting due to lack of accommodation. In the event of any conflict in the schedule, the various clubs concerned will be consulted.

This schedule will not prevent the various clubs from having meetings for the general student body on days other than those scheduled for their own private meeting.

A regular schedule for the first term will be published in the McGill Daily at the beginning of next week.

time the dance was scheduled to begin, the Dawson men came out of the library, stowed away their books (?) off the evening and turned out in full force. The music was good, the floor show was good and people settled down to enjoy themselves.

"Did I enjoy myself?" said one coed. "I got myself three dates out of Dawson Day!"

word also for the veteran students. — "Many of you who are students here are older than you would normally be in peace days, but this you will find is little handicap compared with the tremendous experience of life you have gained by your service in the armed forces of the Crown." "I should like to take this opportunity of congratulating the University authorities for their far-sighted wisdom in finding room and facilities for our young soldiers, sailors, and airmen to take up or renew their studies."

Sixteen Decorated
Following his address the Governor-General invested fifteen students and one staff member. He was assisted in this ceremony by Major-General H. F. G. Letson, and Air Vice-Marshal F. S. McGill, aide-de-camp.

Among the citations read were the following: Major Donald Edward Smith, MC and Bar; "This officer of the Carleton and York Regiment on two occasions displayed splendid gallantry in the face of the enemy which was in keeping with the finest traditions of the Canadian Army." Squadron Leader R. I. A. Smith, DFC; Bar to DFC.

"For great skill and courage during the campaign near the Arnhem and Nijmegen area in which he achieved the remarkable feat of destroying seven enemy aircraft without four days."

HONORARY DEGREES

Those upon whom honorary doctorates were conferred were: Sir Hector Hetherington, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Glasgow, who delivered the convocation address.

Hon. Ray Atherton, United States Ambassador to Canada in the forces of which country 671 McGill men served in the late war. Thomas Forrest Cotton, distinguished heart specialist of London, England, and a graduate in medicine of McGill.

Robert Collier Fetherstonhaugh, military historian and custodian of the university's war records. Chief Justice W. L. Bond of the Superior Court of Montreal, who was to have received a degree, was unable to be present due to illness.

ATTENTION MEDS

The constitution of Camls states that each medical school should retain the executive for two or three years, in order to provide for continuity of the work that is being done.

Thus the possibility of McGill retaining the executive of national Camls is very good.

It is therefore necessary that we elect a Provisional National executive that would take office should the national conference so decide.

Nomination for the following posts are called for:

POSTS.
President—must be a third year student.
Vice President.
Secretary.
Treasurer.
Public Relations Director.

Nominations must be signed by at least 10 students and must be handed in to the class Camls representative before 5 p.m. Wednesday, October 9, 1946.

Elections will be held at a meeting of the Medical Undergraduate Society in the very near future.

guests, who made up the Academic Procession, there were several hundred students, graduates and friends of the university in attendance.

Sermon
Colonel Kilpatrick, in his sermon, made tribute to the graduates and students of McGill for their contribution during the two World Wars, and stated that our annual day of remembrance, Armistice Day, should not only be spent in paying tribute to those who died, but also in renewing our vows that such a situation will not arise again.

The hymns were played by the band of the Canadian Grenadier Guards, the regiment was once commanded by Colonel James McGill, founder of the university. Pipers of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada played The Lament while marching up and down in front of the altar; and the stirring strains of The Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Trumpeters of the Grenadier Guards.

HISTORICAL BOX SEALED

Before the corner stone was laid a copper box was placed in the wall by Eric Leslie, President of the Graduates Society, containing "a history of the university as it is today". In it were sealed the McGill Honour Rolls for the two Great Wars, a list of the members of the McGill War Memorial Committee, through whose efforts the Memorial Swimming Pool was made possible, and the members of the Graduates' Society of McGill University Board of Directors, and last year's Convocation issue of The McGill Daily.

Also included in this historical box of the McGill War Memorial effort, was currency and bills emblematic ALEXANDER WIELDS TROWEL. Following this the Memorial was dedicated by F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor; and then, before a crowd of applauding graduates, students, and visitors, His Excellency the Governor-General tapped the stone with a silver trowel, the corner stone of McGill's own War Memorial.

like "What a hell of a racket" and begins to sound off on how it ought to be done. He suggests the use of a type that was tossed out ten years ago as being obsolete, and is now only used above obituaries. He makes a remark as to the policy of The Daily, blissfully unaware that the policy is changed very frequently (too frequently) depending on the mood of the various Managing Boards. And meanwhile the staff is trying to put out an issue that will make the heart of the Editor-in-Chief veritably glow with happiness.

But really we shouldn't complain, even in fun, for in the reunion of 1971 we will very likely be doing the same thing.

Dance Club Opens Activities at R.V.C.
On Monday afternoon, at 4.15 p.m., the Modern Dance Club are holding an opening tea in the common room of R.V.C. in order to acquaint prospective members with the club's activities, and to outline the programme for the year.

Modern dancing is not social dancing, as one might suppose, but free, individual expression of emotion in dancing. It therefore escapes the restrictions of classical ballet, and is at the same time creative and interpretive.

The club is divided into two

The Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes will hold their tenth annual conference in Montreal with McGill University acting as host to the delegates. The conference will get under way on November 14, and will carry on until the evening of November 16.

The conference will lay down the policy and outline the work for the coming year, which will be carried out by the local CAMSI committees at each university under the direction of the national executive.

OPENING DAY

On the opening day the conference will be addressed by Dr. MacIntosh at a buffet luncheon, to be held in the medical building, and by Dean Meakins at a dinner in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. This day will see the conference get well under way, with the President's report and discussion of some of the main points on the agenda, namely affiliation to the Canadian Medical Association, the problem of internes pay, and the C.A.M.S.I. 'Scientific Film Board'.

This will be second time that McGill will have played host to CAMSI's national conference, the first time being in 1941 at the height of the war.

REGISTRATION

November 14 will see 18 delegates representing nine medical schools registering along with six delegates from the national executive. A number of delegates from Saskatchewan and Ottawa medical schools are expected, as well as a representative from the University of British Columbia, though these schools are not yet as yet official members of CAMSI.

The conference meetings will be held in the faculty room of the medical building. These sessions will have to be closed due to limitation of space. There will however be evening meetings which will be held in the assembly hall. These meetings will be open to all students who will be interested in participating in the discussions.

The conference will hear reports on the progress made since the last national convention on C.M.A. affiliation, on the question of internes pay, scholarships and grants for post graduate work. Each school will report on what they have accomplished and a discussion will follow which will suggest new tasks and improved methods of working for the coming year.

The constitution will be discussed and amended where necessary in order to make CAMSI as effective and as efficient as possible.

The CAMSI project of a Film Board of scientific topic will be taken out of the committee stage and put into effect. This will make available scientific films on many subjects that could be used in lectures, or at public meetings for educational purposes.

An interesting schedule has been arranged for the delegates. The four days of activity will be concluded at the Montreal Military Hospital, where the delegates will make Ward Rounds, following which they will be addressed by Dr. Gardner at a final luncheon.
